The Trumpet is a publication of Parkland High School, serving its students, faculty, and staff. It strives to report issues relevant to the Parkland community, as well as to present a wide range of topics and ideas. This impartiality is suspended in our opinion section, in which we provide a forum for students to voice their views on contemporary issues. The editorial staff does not take responsibility for the opinions presented in this paper; we do, however, take responsibility for allowing them to appear.
